Wesfarmers Ltd (WES) profits slide on write-downs and one-off costs

- Wesfarmers (WES) posted a 58.3% slide in net profit to $1,197m for the year to 30 June 2018 and was weighed down by $1.4bn in write-downs and charges as it navigates a period of transition and change. Its underlying profit (which strips out one-off costs) was a touch ahead of eight analyst forecasts surveyed by Bloomberg and improved most across its Department Stores business, while Officeworks and Bunnings Australia & NZ profits also rose.
- WES had a number of one-off costs and write-downs partly linked to its simplification process which weighed on the bottom line. The group announced plans to spin-off its Coles Supermarkets chain by Nov 18 in addition to selling its coal interests. While the Coles demerger is still subject to shareholder approval, it intends to retain a 15% stake in the chain and would create a separate top 30 company on the ASX and comes 11 years after its purchase. In early August 18, WES agreed to sell its 40% stake in a NSW coal mine (Bengalla) which it said should boost profits by $670-$680m in FY19. In May, WES agreed to sell its 245 Bunnings pilot stores in the UK and Ireland for an undisclosed amount following a review to avoid further capital investment. The sale resulted in a $1,657m loss. WES announced its agreement to sell its Kmart Tyre and Auto Service Unit to Continental AG for A$350m earlier this week and expects a $270-$275m pre-tax gain on the sale.
- Home Improvement (Bunnings Australia & New NZ) posted a 12.7% lift in underlying earnings to $1.5bn over the year. Store-on-store growth in sales (not including new store openings) rose by 8.9%. WES said it is "well-positioned for continued growth".
- Coles' underlying profits fell 6.8% to $1.5bn which was largely impacted by a slide in earnings from its Convenience business due to softer fuel sales. A year earlier, earnings were also boosted by a one-off gain on a property sale and higher Financial Services earnings. Its Food & Liquor operations enjoyed a modest lift in revenue and sales growth while being held back partly by modest price deflation.
- Department Stores' performance stood out over the year, with profits surging 21.5%. This was driven by double-digit growth in transactions at Kmart. The gains were attributed to strong sales growth, improved inventory management and productivity improvements in stores & supply chain. It recorded a $306m impairment charge linked to Target. Officeworks' earnings rose 8.3% thanks to sales growth in stores and online. Six new stores were opened while a new two-hour click and collect service was introduced.
- WES will be paying eligible investors a fully franked $1.20 per share final dividend on 27 September, totalling $1,361m and will trade ex-dividend on 20 August. It currently has a dividend yield of around 4.4% and recently said it does not expect its distribution policy to change post Coles demerger. Looking ahead, no specific guidance was provided for 2019.
